Santa Rosalia is a unique destination just under 600 miles south of San Diego. Most people pass through on their way south through Baja. These people who are anxious to drive on during their Baja adventures, unfortunately miss an amazing place to stop and explore for a couple of days. The town hosts a museum, buildings designed by a world famous architect, great food, and ample stores to supply the needs of your caravan. The French influence is obvious, and is what gives this small town a unique and special character unlike any other place in Baja. This is the only book offering a comprehensive view of the hotels and restaurant options available, along with highlights of the local activities and attractions.

There are many books that promise to help you fix a bad relationship. This groundbreaking bestseller is the first one to help you choose whether you should even try--or if you need to go. Psychotherapist Mira Kirshenbaum draws on years of research and her work with real-life couples to help you make the right decision. She shows you how to diagnose your unique situation with self-analysis and questions like these. • What sins are forgivable and which ones are unpardonable? • Is your partner questioning your opinions to the point where you doubt yourself? • What is your sex life really like, and how important is it? • Is there real love left between you, and how does it stack up against all that you find unlovable? Mira Kirshenbaum provides expert guidelines that are the key to making all your choices, concrete steps that you can implement right now, and the ultimate way to determine your personal bottom line--what you need to be happy. This remarkably insightful and probing guide offers advice that lets you see the truth about your relationship--and with wisdom and compassion, it helps you act with the confidence of knowing that whether you decide to go or stay, you are doing the very best thing.

We all have a different life, and yet we all are common. In the end, we all are humans, and we all make decisions. But some amongst us are more successful than others. What's the difference? How come some people get more success than others? Do our decisions affects us? Well, those are some weighty questions, but they all have answers to them. Your decisions have the power to pave the path of your life. Your decision affects each moment of your life as you are making some kind of decision every second. But do you know how you are making decisions every second? This book will help you understand the power of decision making and how your decisions affect your life. It will help you understand how you can make more mindful choices. Whether you are already great at decision making or you won't become great at it. This book will help you because the domain of decisions is endless.

The first book to use the unexpected discoveries of neuroscience to help us make the best decisions Since Plato, philosophers have described the decision-making process as either rational or emotional: we carefully deliberate, or we "blink" and go with our gut. But as scientists break open the mind's black box with the latest tools of neuroscience, they're discovering that this is not how the mind works. Our best decisions are a finely tuned blend of both feeling and reason--and the precise mix depends on the situation. When buying a house, for example, it's best to let our unconscious mull over the many variables. But when we're picking a stock, intuition often leads us astray. The trick is to determine when to use the different parts of the brain, and to do this, we need to think harder (and smarter) about how we think. Jonah Lehrer arms us with the tools we need, drawing on cutting-edge research as well as the real-world experiences of a wide range of "deciders"--from airplane pilots and hedge fund investors to serial killers and poker players. Lehrer shows how people are taking advantage of the new science to make better television shows, win more football games, and improve military intelligence. His goal is to answer two questions that are of interest to just about anyone, from CEOs to firefighters: How does the human mind make decisions? And how can we make those decisions better?

Do you often find yourself struggling with life's important decisions? Are you waiting for someone to come into your life and guide you on the path to success? Stop waiting and start deciding! You D.E.C.I.D.E. is both a memoir and a self-help book written to empower you to believe in yourself, inspire you to manage the important decisions to get you through life and motivate you to become the hero of your own life.Steve Emt was a star athlete, former West Point cadet, and UCONN basketball player; he had everything going for him. He felt invincible until one fateful night in March of 1995 when he blacked out while driving under the influence at 85 mph. He woke up from a coma days later in a hospital bed and began a long, painful journey to recovery, not just physical but also mental, emotional, and spiritual. He would never fully recover physically, as he was paralyzed from the waist down. But he not only recovered but excelled in other ways, going on to finish his degree, become a middle school teacher, high school basketball coach, mentor, Paralympian, motivational speaker, and now an author. Steve always approached every situation with positive thinking and a determination to succeed. He is not super-human. He just found a method to get through decisions in his life. In You D.E.C.I.D.E., Steve presents the six-step plan that he used and that anyone can use to excel in their life and become their own hero: Determine, Educate, Create, Implement, Don't Ever Give Up, and Evaluate. These are the steps of the hero's journey that Steve traveled and that he is challenging you to take. Stop waiting for a hero to arrive!Be your own hero!
