“Alex.” Derrick took a breath. Even through the phone it sounded heavy and strained, either like he was about to say something he wasn’t sure he wanted to, or like whatever had happened before he made the call had frightened him. Either possibility was scary considering he’d clearly called because he’d just had a premonition. “Alex, you must hurry. Do not let sunset beat you.”

magic. But the magic-cloaked figure wasn't dead—which was a surprise in and of itself. What was even more of a surprise was that when I opened my shields and the Aetheric plane snapped into focus, showing the otherwise gray world with an overwhelming amount of color, the invisibility spell suddenly snapped into focus as well. It coated her form ...
