With its unique, sticky-note cover, this must-have journal has something to say for every day! Record your thoughts on the lined journaling pages. This story begins in 1991 when Sheryl meets her second husband named Richard. Her expectations are different than they were for her first marriage. That said, she never dreams that it will become so awful. Unfortunately, physical abuse is a part of the story. Divorce seems a clear and almost certain option. Sheryl has always believed that God helps those who help themselves (which is not biblical). Like most people, she believes it is up to her to fix herself and her marriage. But nothing she does works. The level of desperation is tremendous-a desperation that Sheryl has rarely experienced. But then.God. Sheryl finally turns everything over to God. God steps in and, wow, the old, ugly marriage dies and what is left is better than a dream come true. Everything is brand new, squeaky clean, and joyful. Jesus was, is, and always will be the center, the bottom, the top, and both sides. There really is no life without Christ Jesus.

Jesus Christ is arguably the most famous man who ever lived. His image adorns countless churches, icons, and paintings. He is the subject of millions of statues, sculptures, devotional objects and works of art. Everyone can conjure an image of Jesus: usually as a handsome, white man with flowing locks and pristine linen robes. But what did Jesus really look like? Is our popular image of Jesus overly westernized and untrue to historical reality? This question continues to fascinate. Leading Christian Origins scholar Joan E. Taylor surveys the historical evidence, and the prevalent image of Jesus in art and culture, to suggest an entirely different vision of this most famous of men. He may even have had short hair.

Detective Marsh Mysteries Double eBook# 2 The investigation of the death of a little boy uncovers a private club whose members think they know what's best for society. Marsh is being stalked and is getting very angry. "Dark and disturbing you feel the pain of betrayal and fear the damaged mind." DLF Review Marsh and Grew search streets and back alleys faced with the horrors of human trafficking. A thirty year old case tugs at Marsh's heart "Evil men doing their evil deeds no woman is ever safe. Fiction with dark truths." DLF Review

This is the story of a life spent largely in the world of chemistry, mainly as a college or university-level teacher. It is also the story of an ordinary boy, a child of the war years, who rose from an unpromising start, leaving school at 16 with four mediocre O Levels, to become more successful and fulfilled in a career than he had ever imagined possible, eventually becoming a university professor. The book also describes the immense contribution made to our lives by chemical research and the chemical industry.ϣ

Picking up where he left off in "Finishing the Hat", Sondheim richly annotates his lyrics with personal and theatre history, discussions of his collaborations, and exacting, charming dissections of his work -- both the successes and the failures.

!One of America's most notorious murder cases inspires this feverish debut! novel that goes inside the mind of Lizzie Borden (The Guardian). On the morning of August 4, 1892, Lizzie Borden calls out to her maid: Someone's killed Father. The brutal ax-murder of Andrew and Abby Borden in their home in Fall River, Massachusetts, leaves little evidence and many unanswered questions. In this riveting debut novel, Sarah Schmidt reimagines the day of the infamous murders as an intimate story of a family devoid of love. While neighbors struggle to understand why anyone would want to harm the respected Bordens, those close to the family have a different tale to tell.of a father with an explosive temper, a spiteful stepmother, and two spinster sisters desperate for their independence. As the police search for clues, Lizzie's memories of that morning flash in scattered fragments. Had she been in the barn or the pear arbor to escape the stifling heat of the house? When did she last speak to her stepmother? Were they really gone and would everything be better now? Shifting among the perspectives of the unreliable Lizzie, her older sister Emma, the housemaid Bridget, and the enigmatic stranger Benjamin, the events of that fateful day are slowly revealed through a high-wire feat of storytelling.

What would make a successful Dentist and an accomplished businesswoman leave their California careers to buy and run the "Oldest Hotel in Alabama?" We could put forth several hypothesis on the subject, but the bottom line is that "We were Nuts!" However we did manage to convince ourselves that it was "Time for", and that we "Needed a Change." And after all neither one of us were, "Afraid of Hard Work." (Heaven forbid any mention of the unmentionable "Mid Life Crisis") As is turns out it was hard work. But the upside if the venture went far beyond our wildest dreams. What an interesting, fulfilling, humorous experience! Funny things happen to all of us, but we feel we were blessed with more funny experiences than a couple ought to be legally allowed to have! Truth really can be stranger than fiction! We sure are glad that we are "Nuts." Being "Nuts" has made our lives infinitely more rewarding. We are unanimous about that! Come join us as we relate some of the high points of our journey.
