"Many sales experts focus on a cookie-cutter sales "strategy," encouraging reps to push the customer through a pre-planned sales process -- an approach that can drive customers away. With ProActive Selling, reps have a wide variety of flexible and effective selling tactics to choose from. This enables them to adapt and approach each sales call uniquely and keep the customer at the center of every sales presentation.

In the best case scenario, most reactive sales calls end with the salesman not the customer doing something. Reactive sales calls result in the salesman sending more information or arranging another phone call. With reactive sales calls the salesman relinquishes control of the conversation and lessens the chance of making something happen.
