Concordia Publishing House introduces a collection spanning 50 years of sermons by master homiletician, Rev. Dr. Norman Nagel. This book offers pastors an opportunity to closely examine Nagel's rich use of the English language to couple illustrations and biblical insight, as well as deliver the imaginative phrases, quotes, and stories that made his sermons memorable and enriching. The collection covers sermons from 1949 to 1999, including his years in London, England, and at Cambridge, Valparaiso University, Holden Village, and Concordia Seminary, his alma mater.

Presents an inspirational anthology of sermons, prayers, devotions, and other religious writings by the influential Catholic cardinal, in a collection that explores such topics as how to reconcile faith and reason and the necessity to seek the holiness in life. Original. 15,000 first printing.

But will it preach? The only good answer to this question often asked about a Christian theology is to preach it, which is to say, to preach according to it, to what it indicates, reflectively and critically, valid Christian preaching ought to be. This volume of selected sermons and homilies documents a career-long attempt to do exactly that. Concerned at once to be faithful to the Christian witness and to speak intelligibly and credibly to women and men here and now, it represents the way of preaching, and so directly calling for a Christian commitment, that is of a piece with the distinctive way of doing Christian theology set forth and argued for in Schubert Ogden's other books and articles. This is why each sermon or homily seeks so to interpret its scriptural text as to bring out its existential meaning for understanding ourselves and leading our lives as human beings today. It is also why each of these, in its way, directly puts the question of decision raised by Christian faith. Thus, together with its companion volume, To Teach the Truth, this book offers a model for bearing witness to the truth as Christians understand it.
